EVENT BOOKSELLING

Literati is available as a full-service bookseller for off-site author appearances, panels, or any book-related event organized by schools, university departments, private organizations, businesses, conferences, libraries, et al., throughout southeastern Michigan.

WHAT LITERATI PROVIDES

- We will order, store, and oversee transportation of all titles related to the event.
- Organized sales display, cash and credit at POS, fully staffed for the duration of the event.
- If needed, we will organize, manage, staff, and implement a signing line. Literati is happy to provide guidance for any part of the signing line process. Based on our staff availability, we may request assistance from your organization.
- If applicable, we may provide additional marketing for the event through our website, social media, newsletter, and/or in-store marketing, at our discretion.
- We will transport and return any and all unsold books.
- We are happy to answer questions and provide feedback related to event programming, venue arrangements, author arrangements, etc.

WHAT LITERATI REQUESTS

- Accurate expected attendance for your event.
- Tables and chairs for book sales and book signing, as determined by Literati and commensurate with book qty., number of bookselling staff, and number of authors.
- All proceeds from book sales.

RESTRICTIONS

- Due to demand, we are not able to accommodate all bookselling partnership requests. We recommend requesting our services at least two months out from your event dates.
- We are generally unable to assist outside organizations in procuring specific or desired authors, nor are we able to provide financial assistance to procure authors for your event or with any costs related to event’s with confirmed authors. We encourage organizations to inquire and work with their desired author’s speaker’s bureau or other representatives in securing an author appearance.
- Literati cannot and/or does not procure or sell used, out of print, or (with few exceptions) self-published titles. Literati may be unable to procure select titles due to their discount schedules, return policies, or availability, and will inform the organizer of these titles.
- In most cases, we will determine the qty. to be ordered for each title requested based on event details.
REQUEST FORM

Please fill out this form and send it to events@literatibookstore.com. We’ll get back to you to confirm our availability.

Organizer:

Name of Event:

Contact Email:

Event Description:

Location:

Date:

Requested arrival time (or time you wish bookselling to occur):

Desired Titles to be sold (please list as Title, Author, ISBN, Publisher):

Please note: Literati cannot and/or does not procure or sell used, out of print, or (with few exceptions) self-published titles. Literati may be unable to procure select titles due to their discount schedules, return policies, or availability, and will inform the organizer of these titles.

Expected Attendance:

If you would like us to plan on ordering greater quantity for a specific title (for instance, the keynote speaker’s title, a title you expect to be most popular, etc.) please list those relevant titles below: